A FULL HOUSE. Memorial Gymnasium at Granite City High School South was filled to standing room only for Saturday night's All-City Vocal Festival, the fifth annual event giving chorus members from all the city's schools an opportunity to display their talents. This year, more than 400 singers were lead by guest conductor David Otis Castonguay, director of vocal music and academics at Spaulding High School in Barre, Vt., through a wide variety of musical styles, culminating in a joint presentation by all the singers of "Moving Right Along" from the Muppet Movie. Miss Piggy and Kermit the Frog made their appearances during the finale. The event attracted approximately 1,500 spectators.

The great debate--who won?

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Who won the great Granite City mayor's debate? That is a question which was asked by many of the approximately 200 persons who jammed the American Legion hall in downtown Granite City Friday night. The answer varied, according to who was asked.

The debate was hosted by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club, with assistance by the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce. Jim Livingston, executive vice-president of the Chamber served as moderator and asked each candidate six questions prepared by a panel organized by the Chamber. The candidates, Mayor Paul Schuler, Alderman Warren Decatur and Daniel Partney, did not know what the questions were to be until they were asked.

Rosalie Stern welcomed those present on behalf of the BPW, saying the club's interest in hosting the debate was "a desire for community growth and an interest in better government."

Livingston explained the rules to the candidates and audience and asked that the debate be treated as "a forum befitting the prestigious position of mayor of Granite City."

AID TO SCHOOLS?

The first question concerned the financial crisis the Granite City School District is facing and the candidates were each asked if they feel the next city administration can be of assistance.

Partney spoke first and said the community elects seven school board members to operate the school district and said, "It can run into problems when the city government runs into your school district government." He also said, "I feel it is important that the members of the school district conduct an efficient operation without any in-

City workers seeking union representation

A spokesman for approximately 23 Granite City employees who want to become members of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, is charging that the city council's negotiating committee is "stalling" until after the April 7 election to recognize them as union employees.

William Dallas Jr., a spokesman for the city workers, primarily clerical workers, charged Friday that members of the negotiating committee "seem to be dragging their feet in failing to recognize AFSCME as the city workers' bargaining agent."

Dallas said that in several meetings between the two sides, no definite reason was given as to why the committee has not recognized the union.

"We have heard rumors that the timing is wrong. The original letter of our intent was read before the city council on Jan. 27 and it was referred to the negotiating committee. We have met twice with that committee since the 27th, and, once again, have been given no reason why they want to wait other than they said it needs a lot of study," Dallas contended.

He said the group does not want to negotiate salaries, at this time, and seeks only recognition.

He added, "Since we are the only group of employees left in the city not in a union, we cannot understand why the negotiating committee has failed to recognize us up to this date."

"One of the reasons given by the chairman of the negotiating committee, Fred P. Schuman, is that he did not have the time to deal with it now, since he is involved in trying to get re-elected. We have repeated again that we do not want to sit down and negotiate the salaries we have now. We just want to be recognized," Dallas added.

"He (Schuman) stated again that he has not had a chance to talk it over with the mayor and the negotiating committee, as a whole, is not against us going union, but that they do not want to deal with it at this time," he contended.

Girl, 11, raped here

Possible charges are being considered against a 60-year-old Granite City man alleged to have had relations with an 11-year-old neighbor girl ended to his home by sandwiches, soft drinks and a chance to watch television.

Mothers of two girls known to have been at the residence several times told police they were aware of the visits but until Thursday afternoon believed the children had not been in jeopardy.

One mother commented, "The old couple was known to like kids. They let them watch TV and play in their yard."

The mothers until Thursday were unaware that the wife of the accused man often was absent due to being at work. They commented that "a lot of children have been visiting there."

One offense is alleged to have occurred at 5:30 p.m. Feb. 21 when the 11-year-old was persuaded to smoke a cigarette and to pick out four books from a group he displayed.

One mother commented, "The old couple was known to like kids. They let them watch TV and play in their yard."

On Feb. 25, the same young companion was left in the living room while the man, hired the 11-year-old to a bedroom. She partly disrobed while he used a machine to massage her.

In the early afternoon of Sunday, March 1, the man waited for the two girls and took them to his home, where the 11-year-old was persuaded to smoke a cigarette and to pick out four books from a group he displayed.

Her companion left before she did, in order to attend a dance lesson.

Police were contacted after one of the mothers learned some of the details of the February visits.

In an unrelated case, a Venice girl escaped at 7 a.m. Friday at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue by running away from a man about 32 years old who told her to walk to his old blue Corvette auto. A partial license number was obtained.

It was the third time the same individual had tried to take the Venice girl to the car, her mother said. The man has a badly pockmarked face.

Circuit redistricting would reduce number of judges in Madison county

A proposal of the Illinois House Judiciary 1 Redistricting Subcommittee for redrawing Circuit Court boundaries, the first geographic change in the courts since 1957, would reduce the number of judges in Madison County, it was learned this week.

Unlike legislative districts, there is no requirement in the state constitution or in federal court decisions requiring a "one man-one vote" reapportionment of court districts.

The intention of the recommendations is to more equalize the current widely varying caseload between circuits, the subcommittee states in its report.

The report cites 1979 court statistics showing the number of cases filed per full circuit judge ranges from 417 in Calhoun County to more than 1,600 in two Chicago suburban-area circuits.

Under the proposal, Madison would be one of 12 new single-county circuits.

There are presently only two—Cook and DuPage counties.

The new circuits would be designated by letters instead of numbers under the proposal. Madison County would be known as the "E" Circuit.

One section of the subcommittee's report would reduce the number of judges in which is now the 3rd Circuit Court of Madison and Bond counties, which has a higher caseload per circuit judge (1,195) than most other downstate circuits.

The present eight full circuit judges would be reduced to six under the proposal. The number of associate judges for Madison County, nine, would remain the same.

Resident judges in smaller counties, such as Calhoun and Greene, probably would be eliminated under the proposed changes.

Third Circuit Chief Judge Horace Calvo said it would be "very difficult" to operate with fewer full circuit judges

Transit board seeks controls

By EDGURNEY

A group of state legislators from this area pledged Friday to try to give the three metro-East mass transit districts control over all state and local bus subsidies.

"I think all of us agree you should have that control," State Rep. Monroe Flinn (D-Cahokia) told the transit board members. No one disagreed, and the indication was that it would not be difficult to get a law passed to change control of the subsidies.

The transit boards from Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties held a joint meeting at the St. Clair County courthouse. Legislators present, in addition to Flinn, were State Sen. Kenneth Hall (D-East St. Louis), and State Reps. Celeste C. Stiehl (R-Belleview), Everett Steele (R-Glen Carbon), and Sam Wolf (D-Granite City). Also present was Joe Blakes, aide to State Sen. James Donawald.

The meeting was called because transit board members—Madison County's Bill Haine in particular—are dissatisfied with what they feel is a lack of control over Bi-State Transit, which provides bus service to this area. The three boards recently established sales taxes to provide a local subsidy for Bi-State.

"What we really want is an option to make a decision whether we go with Bi-State," said Vi Tucker of Collinsville, a member of the transit board from Madison County.

Haine said Bi-State officials have been cooperative. "It's just a system we feel the people on the east side are not satisfied with," said Haine.

The local sales taxes of one-fourth cent in the Madison and St. Clair county districts and one-eighth cent in Monroe are to be funneled through the transit boards, whose members complain they can't give it to anyone but Bi-State.

The state operating subsidies go through the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Flinn said he was House sponsor of last year's law permitting establishment of "the transit" districts. Legislators never gave a thought to the issue of control over funds and who would provide bus service.

"I'm willing to give you all the control you want," Flinn said, "although I have serious misgivings about your ability to be successful."

Flinn was referring to the proposal that the districts operate their own system.

Suit filed on sale of Sedlack mortuary to Thomas firm

Louise Sedlack, divorced wife of the late funeral director John Sedlack, has filed suit in Madison County Circuit Court against Mr. Sedlack's brother, August B. Sedlack and Bob Thomas Memorial Mortuary, Inc., challenging the possession of Sedlack Funeral Home, 615 Madison Ave., by the Thomas Mortuary firm.

The two-count lawsuit seeks a judgment of $10,000 for their allegedly wrongful holding of the premises and asks that possession of the property be returned to the plaintiffs.

Robert Thomas of Thomas Mortuary, announced in September that his firm had purchased the funeral home from the estate of the late John Sedlack, who died June 7, 1980.

According to Louise Sedlack's lawsuit, she acquired possession of the funeral home July 9, 1959, and, under a 1964 court order, she leased it to John Sedlack, until his death June 7, 1980.

Theresa Anne Bay, John Sedlack's daughter, obtained possession of the facility July 10, 1980, according to the suit.

The lease to John Sedlack terminated upon his death, in compliance with the 1964 court order, the document contends, but August Sedlack "wrongfully took possession of the premises and retains possession thereof to this date." It also says that about June 24, 1980, August Sedlack was served with a court order to deliver possession of the premises on July 31, 1980. Subsequently, the attorneys for the two parties agreed to extend the delivery date to Aug. 31, 1980, the lawsuit says.

About Aug. 27, August Sedlack entered into a lease agreement with Bob

Optimist oratorical contestants speak their pieces

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

The topic was, "A Commitment to Share," and eight Granite City high school students demonstrated their willingness to share their time and talents while competing in the annual Granite City Optimist Club's oratorical contest Thursday afternoon.

Each speaker saw the topic in a different light and members of the club expressed surprise at the depth of thought and talent used to express their topic.

"I'm sure glad I don't have to judge these speeches," was a statement made by several Optimist members following each speech. Club President Jim Winning expressed the feelings of all of the club members after the speeches, telling the students, "You're all winners."

Petrillo says city records display $55,000 receipts

In response to charges that $55,000 paid to the city in January 1979 for the old Nameoki fire station did not show up in financial records of 1979 and 1980, Granite City Treasurer Nick Petrillo produced cash receipt reports Friday that includes the item for both years.

The action followed charges by William Hebert, candidate for Petrillo's office, that the receipt of the money was not listed in any reports or city audits he had examined for the 1979-80 years.

Hebert contended he had examined financial reports and audits for both years, but the $55,000 did not appear at any place in any of them.

Petrillo also produced a letter signed by William Patton Jr., executive vice president of the Granite City (Trust) bank listing the chronological order of transactions involving the investment of the $55,000 in certificates of deposit.

He displayed financial reports as of April 30 in 1979 and 1980, which listed the fund, the purpose for which it was received and the interest earned on the certificate.

Petrillo also showed documents verifying interest payments of as much as 11.85 percent at various times. The $55,000 item for the fire station matured at a total of $63,986.

The letter from the bank said:

The following is a chronological summary of events regarding the investment of City funds by your office:

1) On February 1, 1979, your office purchased a money market certificate (No. 811) in the amount of $55,125.00. This certificate was purchased with our cashier's check No. 91577, payable to Donald G. Adams, Clarence A. Dempsey Jr., and the City of Granite City in the amount of $55,125.00.

2) On August 2, 1979, a money market certificate (No. 1272) was issued to your office in the amount of $57,702.12. This amount represented the renewal of the above matured certificate plus interest earned of $2,577.12.

3) On February 8, 1980, a money market certificate (No. 1943) was issued to your office in the amount of $60,376.07. This amount was issued for the renewal of the above matured certificate plus interest earned of $2,675.96.

4) On August 13, 1980, the above matured certificate was cashed in and our Cashier's Check No. B26022 was issued to your office for $60,376.07. We also issued our interest check No. 35571 in the amount of $3,608.15, representing interest on the cashed in certificate.

Copies of the above described documents are enclosed for your records. The copies indicate that the certificates are issued to the Office of the Treasurer for the City of Granite City. The line on the certificate indicates that they are "Payable to Self..." is our method of indicating that the certificates are payable to whom they were issued.

If you should require any additional information, please advise. The letter was signed by William C. Patton Jr., executive vice president of the bank.

Teachers convene Friday

The 1981 Madison County Teachers' Institute will take place Friday. Harold E. Briggs, regional superintendent of schools, says more than 4,500 teachers from public and nonpublic schools in Madison and Macoupin counties will convene on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

All certified teachers, whether or not employed, are entitled to attend, and guests are welcome. This year, for the first time, six school districts in Macoupin County will be participating in the institute, at their request," Briggs related.

Madison County has traditionally put forth much effort in developing its institute program and this year is no exception. Plans call for two major speakers, both nationally known for their contributions in the field of education.

Special events will include a performance by the East Alton Junior High and Grade School band under the direction of Joseph Bednara.

Participatory creative drama workshops for teachers will be presented by Imagination Theater of Chicago.

Artwork from elementary school students in this region will be on display as well as materials and service information from the Madison County Teacher Center.

Over 37 educational exhibits containing information and materials on teaching will be arranged on the first floor of the University Center.

Supt. Briggs commented, "The master program for the institute has been in the planning process since October 1980 when the first committee meeting was held. Members of this committee represent every public school district as well as nonpublic schools in Madison County."

"Their efforts to develop a quality program—one that meets the diverse needs of all certified educators in the region—deserve recognition. Among those serving on this planning committee were: Irene Hackett Orr and Judy Russell, Helen Velfoff and Larry Dew from Granite City, and Wanda Graham, Nina Dittman and Marguerite Connel from the Madison district, plus Keith Schelp, Carol Teaney and Mary Beth McGivern from nonpublic schools. Dr. Stefan Krchniak and Juanita Gosch from SIUE, Troy Cole of the Illinois State Board of Education, and Supt. Briggs, Nancy Krchniak and Janet Keller from the Office of the Regional Superintendent of Schools.

Dr. Zacharie Clements of the University of Vermont will discuss "Making Schools a Place of Sense and Humanity" at 8:30 a.m. and again at 10:10 a.m. in the Meridian Ballroom.

He has devoted his professional career to helping teachers better understand themselves in relation to children. Dr. Clinton Bunke of Illinois State University will speak on "The Decade Ahead: What's in It for Us?"

His presentation also will be given at 8:30 a.m. and again at 10:10 a.m. in the Communications Building Theater.

Professor Bunke has delivered over 1,000 keynote addresses to a variety of audiences throughout the U.S. His address will focus on forces in society that impact on schools and how these forces will create change.

The institute also will offer over 53 small group sessions from which teachers may select their day. These sessions will cover many current topics in education, geared to all levels and areas of instruction.

Public schools in Madison County and some of the nonpublic schools will be closed Friday, March 27, so that teachers may attend.

Optimist

The first-place winner among the young women, Mary Turck of Granite City High School North, saw "A Commitment to Share" as a personal responsibility for each person to use a smile, a few kind words and his talents to try and brighten the day for others. "We can bring out the best of a person if we will all give a part of ourselves," she told the club members with a warm smile.

Second place among the young women was Amy Hartman of South high school, who told the Optimists that she felt a commitment to share in the concern for abused children. She said that statistics indicate approximately 76,000 children will be abused this year and everyone should become involved in fighting child abuse. "If you suspect child abuse, please get involved," she asked, telling Optimists that the toll-free telephone number to report suspected child abuse is 1-800-25-ABUSE. "It is our responsibility," she concluded.

Jim Crews of South high school, first place winner among the young men said sharing patriotic feelings is among the greatest things Americans can share. He said he is opposed to war, but stated, "There are three ideals worth fighting for—live, love and liberty." He concluded, "Give and share with each other the respect that America deserves."

Second place among the young men was awarded to John Withers of North who said America has always honored its commitment to share its blessings and abundances with the less fortunate. Examples of America's sharing with its people are helping the underprivileged through the Salvation Army since 1880, the Red Cross since 1918 and, more recently, the Peace Corps, which began in 1961.

America also gives each person an opportunity to develop his skills through public schools, libraries and other training and learning opportunities. America has shared its blessings by welcoming immigrants, particularly between 1870 and 1916, when more than 25 million people made America their home, doubling the population of the country.

Withers said he hopes America will continue to share its blessings with others and concluded, "We must continue to share." Karla Venarsky of North saw marriage as the ultimate commitment to share, reminding the Optimists of the wedding vow and its meaning. Raising a child also is a commitment to share, she said, adding "A child raised in love and in commitment will grow up to be a valuable member of the family and of society."

Kathi Teitloff of South said everyone must share concern for teenage runaways or those who are considering running away from home. Statistics show that more than one million children run away from home each year and police estimate that at any given moment, there are more than 20,000 children under the age of 16 away from home because their "parents have no time for their kids."

She said there are runaways and "throwaways," whose parents have forced their children out of the house. Both kinds can be helped through runaway homes, counselors, friendship and in other ways. She said the Runaway Hotline should be given to every child who may run away and should be used by those trying to find help for a child considering running. The number is 1-800-2873.

Richard Skubish saw a commitment to America to share its ideas and talents with the rest of the world, stating, "Without sharing, this world might cease some day because of constant fighting with devastating effects." The Nobel Peace Prizes are an example of encouraging persons to share their talents with others for the common good, he told the club members.

Religion, love, friendship and marriage all involve sharing, he said, adding, "Sharing is the essence of life. We are faced not only with the choice of sharing, but the necessity of sharing knowledge, insight, friendship and love."

Sean McGovern of South said we must share in the fight against drug abuse by children. He cited police statistics that one of nine youths smokes marijuana daily and the use of all other drugs, except heroin, is increasing annually. To get money to buy drugs, students are using their lunch money, stealing from their parents or even selling drugs. Sudden suffocation deaths from inhaling paints, glues or other substances from paper bags are increasing nationally, he told the Optimists.

He said parents should be aware of the symptoms of drug abuse in their children, including failing grades, truancy, poor memory and listlessness. If parents believe their children are using drugs or marijuana, they should become involved. "A child should not be abandoned in a crisis stage. We must all work hard to combat this massive national problem," McGovern said.

Judges included the speech instructors from the two schools, Dr. Goni Michaeloff of North and Ron Pennell of South.

Winners of the local contest will advance to the Optimist District Oratorical contest in the near future.

NAMED IN WARRANTS

Darrell Pellazzari, 19, of 707 N. 27th Place was booked by Granite City police at 11:15 a.m. Saturday on warrants charging possession of a controlled substance and possession of a hypodermic syringe. He was released on $500 cash bail.

Madison child screening, kindergarten registration

Madison public schools will conduct their annual screening of three-, four- and five-year-olds April 21, 22, and 23.

To register a child for kindergarten, the parent must present a birth certificate or some legal proof of date of birth, plus the child's immunization record, and pay a $1 registration fee. The parent will be given health cards so that the physical and dental examination and immunizations can be completed before the start of school.

School Code of Illinois 27-8 says: "No child will be permitted to enter kindergarten until proof of physical examination and immunization record is established."

All children upon being admitted to kindergarten, or prior to admission to any public, private or parochial school in Illinois, or upon transfer from another school system, are to present an immunization record and evidence of a physical examination.

THEATER SEARCHED

BURGULAR TAKES CUN. Granite City, Madison and Venice police searched the Washington Theater building at 11:40 a.m. Saturday in an effort to locate a burglar who had taken a 16 gauge automatic shotgun and an undetermined amount of money from the Badger Industries at 1334 Nineteenth St.

The intruder left packages of meat, thawed and unthawed, near a basement door. A ladder was found near a hole that had been cut in a ceiling. Construction work is in progress in the former theater, located adjacent to the Badger firm.

INSURANCE PRICE

LIMITATION URGED
Illinois Insurance Director Philip R. O'Connor last week called on the General Assembly to erase the state's image as the "Dodge City of insurance pricing," by enacting legislation to permit the state insurance department to prevent excessive rates in markets where there is no competition.

Illinois is the only state in the nation without an insurance rate law of any kind, he said. Illinois consumers must now rely only on anti-trust laws to prevent unfair prices, according to O'Connor.

PUBLIC NOTICE TO RESIDENTS OF NAMEOKI TOWNSHIP

We, the members of the "Progressive Action Party," find ourselves in the regrettable position of having to present you, the Township residents, with certain facts. These are facts which should have been presented to you by our opposition on the United with Progress Party, but have not been, and apparently will not be. These are the facts that you, the residents and tax payers, must know before you can make an honest selection in the April 7th election.

I. Our opposition's candidate for Supervisor, Harry A. Briggs, left that office in 1971 with a judgment against him in the amount of $3,005 plus court costs. This judgment was obtained by Nameoki Township officials for his collecting double per diem payments for attending meetings. Some of the current township officials, running with Mr. Briggs were part of the group filing for the judgment. Those people were: Douglas Teetor, Lee Adams and Carl Macios. Now these same people are supporting him as their candidate for Supervisor. We don't understand this, can you?

II. Our opposition's candidate for Highway Commissioner already admitted with his other full time job he couldn't handle the responsibilities of Township Supervisor. As evidence of this, Mr. Davis hired his son as his Administrative assistant (at taxpayers' expense) to cover for him. Now Harold Davis wants to be your Highway Commissioner, saying its only an administrative part-time position. Where will he be during the next snow storm when your road or street is clogged? Will you be able to contact him at his full time job at the mill when you have a road problem? We doubt it, and we're sure you doubt it too.

III. Our opposition's candidate for Tax Assessor, Carl Macios, talks of his experience and expertise in the Tax Assessor's position. According to Editorials in at least one of our local newspapers, during the past year, while under State law to reassess all properties every four years, he has actually reassessed only 2% of the properties in the Township. These reassessments were primarily sales picked up from the tax records. Had a complete re-evaluation been made of all properties in the Township, we doubt that half the objections would have been raised by you, the Taxpayers. Is it fair to draw a full salary and do only 2% of your required job. We don't think so, do you?

IV. Our opposition's candidate for Town Clerk, Douglas Teetor, aside from supporting Mr. Briggs, whom he previously filed judgment against, seems to have set his own rules. When our Progressive Action Party requested information from public records regarding Mr. Briggs' judgment, Mr. Teetor, the Town Clerk, (1) said the request must be in writing, (2) failed to reply in 48 hours, and (3) one week and one day later refused copies of the records as allowed by Illinois State Law. This was based on a local policy established, contrary to State Law, by Mr. Teetor and our present Board. Shouldn't you, the residents and taxpayers, have access to your public records in a reasonable period of time? We think so, don't you?

IF YOU FEEL AS WE DO . . . THEN

Nab two after North break-in Timely intervention by Granite City police thwarted a break-in at 2:40 a.m. today

City workers

He said that should Schuman fail to be re-elected, or committee member Warren Decatur be elected mayor and removed from the committee, the employees wanting to be represented by AFSCME would have to "start all over" attempting to be recognized.

One request made by Schuman has been rejected, Dallas agreed. Schuman wanted to see a list of those individuals who signed AFSCME pledge cards and the union representative, Bob Brown, would not agree to that, saying that management should not know which individuals are supporting the union and which are not.

Brown suggested that a third party, preferably a priest or minister, be given the cards to compare with a list of city employees verify that the signatures are accurate and that the union has complied with the requirement that more than 50 percent of the non-union employees have signed pledge cards. Dallas said that of the 23 persons the union would represent, approximately 19 or 20 have signed pledges.

Dallas said the group seeking AFSCME representation includes clerical workers, the payroll department, the treasurer's office, the city clerk's office, the air pollution control department, the engineering and building inspection office and police clerks and dispatchers.

Dallas said that while the employees do not want to negotiate a salary increase immediately, "We do not want to rule out negotiating a concrete working agreement in the future."

Schuman later Friday responded, "I don't think anybody can accuse us of dragging our feet and I don't think it is quite correct for them to do it at this time."

He said in his four years as chairman of the negotiating committee, at least 16 months were spent in intensive negotiations with more than 80 negotiating sessions held. "I felt this was my month (to campaign)," Schuman said.

Schuman admitted he has been very busy campaigning and has not had time to do much negotiating work. "I have been out every night (campaigning) and I didn't see what the big rush was." "It was at my suggestion that Billy Dallas got together with the others and they negotiated as a team, even though they are not in a union, and we came up with a two-year agreement, which is in force. This is just a matter of finalizing that."

"We (the council) have had a lot going on, insurance and other things, and it is election time. I don't think anybody can accuse us of dragging our feet," he repeated.

Transit

chairman of the St. Clair County transit board, said he favors the counties working together to get a new bus system. Haine favors a separate system for Madison County.

Haine said the districts could cooperate on routes that go between counties. However, he thinks Madison County residents have been dissatisfied with another joint operation, the Metro-East Sanitary District. "My people up there will never take another one," Haine said.

Haine said the idea of separate systems disturbed him.

Haine said his board will ask for advice from the state transportation study commission.

Steele agreed with the proposal to grant local control over the funds, but he said it didn't automatically mean that would be served by Bi-State.

Charles Houghton, executive director of Bi-State, told the gathering his agency had seen last year's law as "a tremendous opportunity" to work with the local districts to improve service. "I wonder if reinventing the wheel (dumping Bi-State) is necessary," Houghton said. "But that's your decision."

Houghton had no quarrel with the proposal to give the districts control over the state subsidies. It takes IDOT 200 days to pay Bi-State its subsidies, he said. "That presents an enormous cash flow problem for us," he said.

Filion said there isn't much time to draft legislation and get it introduced in time for consideration this session. May 1 is the deadline set by the speaker, he said.

Susan Schold, manager of the Madison County Mass Transit District, said it won't take long to draft a proposal, since the plan is only to amend the portion of the Downstate Transportation Act relating to funding.

Circuit redistricting

without overburdening the associate judges more.

He said the subcommittee's proposal to put Bond County into a circuit with several other small counties to the east and making Madison a separate circuit was "not of great importance."

Illinois Court Administrator Roy

Gulley, however, strongly disagreed with the proposal to create more single-county circuits, such as Madison.

He argued it was an advantage to both Madison and Bond counties to be in the same circuit, since when judges in Madison County excused themselves from hearing a case, the Bond County resident judge could be brought in, an vice-versa.

The state constitution prohibits the legislature from eliminating the position of any incumbent judges. Any of the reductions proposed in the report would occur when the current judges' terms expire.

Suit filed

Thomas Memorial Mortuary, under which the Thomas firm claims possession of the Sedlack Funeral Home, it states.

It contends that neither August Sedlack nor the Thomas firm "has any right, whatsoever, to possession of the premises..." The defendants have "failed and refused to surrender and deliver possession of said premises to plaintiffs and wrong fully retain the same," it adds.

Mrs. Sedlack contends the fair market value to rent the funeral home is $1,200 per month and seeks a judgment for the loss of rent and profit, in addition to giving possession of the funeral home to Mrs. Sedlack and Mrs. Bay.

Alumnae makes plans for tea

An annual tea was planned at last week's meeting of the St. Elizabeth Nurses' Alumnae at the Madison Recreation Center. Maxine Carson, president, was in charge. The Nurse's Prayer was recited to open the session.

The traditional Nurses' Alumnae tea will take place May 12 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, it was decided.

Reports were presented by Gladys Burgess, Evelyn Buenger and Josephine Czervinski. A financial statement also was read by Helen Gages.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Czervinski and Mildred King. Other members attending were Eunice Oros, Dorothy Geroff, Sister Mary Theodore, Evelyn Cunningham, Roberta Gerke, Sister Mary Marce, Sophia Lesky, Ruth Novacek, Dorothy Bruce, Alberta Ronney and a guest, Marjorie Finley.

The group will next meet April 21 at the same location.

When challenged, they responded with loud and abusive language, it is contended.

Ollie Derr heads BPW

By VALERIE EVENEDEN of the Press-Record
Ollie Derr, a lifelong resident of Granite City and an insurance claims specialist, was elected president of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club at its annual election meeting last week.

She succeeds in the office, Rosalie Stern of Madison, Phone Center supervisor for Illinois Bell.

The group met in the community meeting room at the Tri-Cities YMCA.

Prior to the business session, a conducted tour of the renovated facility was enjoyed by many of the club members, who were escorted by Lucy Tueth of the "Y" staff. Several expressed interest in joining racquetball classes.

A slate of officers, proposed by the Nominating Committee, was read by Pauline Weir, chairman. Nominations also were made from the floor, with a spirited election following.

Others elected to head the local business women's club in 1981-82 are:

Sharon Yount, president-elect; Patricia Crockerell, first vice-president; Rose Ezell, second vice-president; Ruth Bradley, recording secretary; Wilma Large, corresponding secretary; and Joy Wofford, treasurer.

The club's new president is the mother of four children, three boys and one girl. She has been employed as a claims specialist by the MFA Insurance Co., for the last seven years.

Mrs. Derr was born in Granite City and graduated from Granite City High School South. She attended various instruction courses in connection with her job.

A member of the Granite City BPW Club for the past 15 years, Mrs. Derr currently is serving as president-elect. She has held the offices of first and second vice president and secretary, and has served as a board member and chairman of many committees.

She also has served as BPW District 14 legislation chairman.

Mrs. Derr is a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church, New Hope Chapter 432, Order of Eastern Star, and Women of the Moose, Chapter 247.

Elected to serve on the BPW Board of Directors were: Elsie Elmore and Sharon Beckett, three-year terms; Patricia Valencia and Carolyn Smith, two-year terms; and Ruth Ann Nicholas, Barbara Young and Charlotte Johnson, one-year terms.

Mrs. Beckett, Mrs. Nicholas and Carolyn Frye were named to the Auditing Committee.

Pearl Kennerly was selected a three-year trustee on the Scholarship Committee, joining Helene Bischoff and Mrs. Weir.

Delegates chosen to attend the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's annual convention, scheduled in July at San Francisco, Calif., were Mrs. Derr, Mrs. Yount and Mrs. Crockerell.

Named as local club delegates at the state convention of the Illinois Federation of BPW Clubs, set April 23 through April 26, at the Marriott Hotel, Chicago, were:

Lois Wetton, LaVelle City and to Jones-Blythe. The center will be located on a ten-acre site north of the State Capitol between Madison and Jefferson Streets, and will extend from First Street to new extension of Lewis Street.

It will consist of 538,000 square feet and house 2,800 employees presently scattered in five locations in Springfield.

During construction, an estimated $22 million in wages will be paid to Illinois workers in construction trades, providing jobs for 1,500 workers.

Construction will begin this spring, with completion scheduled for spring 1984. The Revenue Center will have a glass-enclosed atrium, rising four stories high, where services for the public will be located.

At each end of the atrium will be a six-story high office tower that will anchor the design. Parking for 675 cars will be provided on the site. The Revenue Center will be fired by 100 percent Illinois coal. The heating system will be connected to the existing system in the Capitol Complex power plant.

Stephens, Pearl Kennerly, Sharon Beckett, Elsie Elmore, Sharon Yount, Patricia Crockerell, Norma Mendoza, Ruth Bradley, Joy Wofford, Pauline Weir, Rose Ezell, Sharon Yount, Ollie Derr and Rosalie Stern.

In other business, the group heard plans for the installation of Lois Wetton as chairman of District 14. She is a Granite City resident and a past president of the local club.

The installation will take place at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, April 2, at Buckley's Restaurant in the Ramada Inn at Fairview Heights.

Also reviewed were plans for a "Swing Into Spring" dinner dance, planned Sunday, March 29, at St. Mary's Engelbert Hall, Madison. Tickets still are available from members.

The Public Relations Night dinner is scheduled at 6:30 p.m. April 15 at the Sunset Hill Country Club. Reservations must be made prior to April 8, it was announced.

45 scholar interviews
Forty-five have been notified they are semifinalists in competition to become SUE presidential scholars for 1981.

Ik-Ju Kang, chairman of the department of physics and of the presidential scholars committee, said the group will be brought to the university between March 30 and April 3 for interviews and tours of the campus.

The final selection of 20 scholars will be announced by mid-April. They will be honored at a luncheon reception in May.

The committee received 114 applications from high school seniors in Texas, Alabama, Georgia, Colorado, Missouri and Illinois. Feb. 2 was the deadline to indicate an interest in the 1981 program.

Launched in 1978, the Presidential Scholars Program has made it possible for 20 students to be selected each year to receive four-year scholarships, special academic status and individualized educational opportunities. It is underwritten by contributions to the SUE Foundation.

Sentencing a relief to grieving widow

By ED GURNEY
Beverly Lehman felt a sense of relief after the conviction of reckless homicide in the death of her husband and children was sentenced to prison last week.

"I'm glad it's over. Very glad," said Mrs. Lehman. "It's been a long time."

It was a day Mrs. Lehman, 27, had been waiting for since Dec. 31, 1979. On that evening, Larry Lehman, 42, Nicole Lehman, 5; and Stacy Lehman, 1, all of Granite City, were killed in an automobile accident on State Aid 35. Bev Lehman was injured and hospitalized.

Arin Davis, 51, Holiday Mobile Home Court, was sentenced Monday to three years in prison on his conviction of reckless homicide in connection with the accident. Associate Judge John Day made that sentence run consecutively with a one-year sentence Davis was given last month for his conviction on a November, 1979 drunk driving charge in Collinsville.

There could be little sense of relief Monday for Davis and his family. After the sentencing, Davis turned himself in to begin a seven-day sentence in the county jail on a conviction of resisting a police officer in connection with the Collinsville incident. After he serves that sentence, Davis is expected to remain free on bond while his attorney, John Gitchoff of Granite City, appeals the other convictions. Gitchoff said the appeals will probably be considered by the appellate court in this fall's term.

Judge Day denied Gitchoff's motion Monday to overturn the reckless homicide conviction or grant a new trial.

Gitchoff claimed Assistant State's Attorney Keith Jensen had violated a judge's order by not telling Gitchoff the substance of the testimony of two key witnesses before the trial began last November.

That failure will be the basis for the appeal, Gitchoff said.

Gitchoff also sought unsuccessfully to have Day order an alternative sentence which would allow Davis to keep his job while spending nights and weekends in the Madison County Jail. "No, I didn't want that at all," Mrs. Lehman told a reporter later.

Gitchoff also had proposed that Davis give part of his wages to Mrs. Lehman and Larry Lehman's surviving child from another marriage. "I don't want his money," Mrs. Lehman said. "I don't want anything to do with this man."

She testified that she has overdosed twice on drugs and had two nervous breakdowns since the accident. She cried several times during the court sentencing proceedings, and left the courtroom as Gitchoff questioned Davis about his 25 years service in the Air Force and Army and brought out the fact he was honorably discharged.

Davis testified it would be a hardship to his family if he were sent to prison. He said his wife has had two heart attacks and is scheduled to undergo surgery this summer.

He said he has three sons living at home, none of whom works full-time. Davis said his job in St. Louis—where his son drives him—would be lost.

Davis said he needs facial surgery relating to the 1979 crash but had postponed it until after his one-year job probation ends in August. Under cross-examination by Jensen, Davis said he had been scheduled to undergo an alcohol treatment program only days after the accident.

He said he was unemployed at the time and was in a state of depression. "I don't feel I had a drinking problem, no sir," he told Jensen.

Jensen asked Davis why he had offered to buy drinks when he was tavern-hopping before the accident if he was so concerned about his bills. Jensen also asked Davis if he would have recommended probation if his wife and children had been killed in a similar accident.

"God knows I have regretted this ever since it happened," Davis said emotionally. "If someone killed my wife, sir, what can I say... I think I'd have to know the person who did it. I didn't mean it."

"I'm sorry it happened," Davis said, "God knows I'm sorry."

Davis said he was not told the truth about the accident until 17 days after it happened, and went into shock. He said he has not had a drink since the accident "and I don't intend to."

Jensen argued in favor of a prison sentence, citing Davis' past drunk driving conviction and the need for a sentence as a deterrent. Gitchoff said the harm could not be undone and he stressed the hardship a prison sentence would cause to Davis' family. That inconvenience "is nothing compared to the tragedy he caused," Jensen retorted.

Judge Day took 190 days off Davis' sentence for two months he spent in Scott Air Force Base Hospital and one month in Madison County Jail after the accident.

Davis would be able to get out in half of the remaining 45 months of the sentence for good behavior.

Council for gifted to meet today

The Granite City Council for Gifted Children will meet today from 7-9 p.m. at Parkview School, 3200 Maryville Road.

A general business meeting will be held with the selection of a nomination committee to draw up a slate of officers who will preside over the council next year, to be voted upon at the May meeting.

A special program will be held for identified gifted children to be presented by the Coast Guard Auxiliary on water safety. Children are welcome and encouraged to attend since summer will soon be here with many water activities to be enjoyed safely.

A rather serious program is planned for the adults in attendance with a video tape of the Donahue program that was presented a few months ago regarding the suicides of gifted children and young people and their families. Gifted individuals have the highest incidence of suicide in the adolescent population.

Community colleges to elect during November

Public community colleges have ordinarily held elections for members of their boards at this time of year. But things are different in 1981, says David L. Viar, executive director of the Illinois Community College Trustees Association.

This year marks the beginning of a new schedule of elections in the state brought about by a recently enacted state law mandating consolidation of elections. Starting this year, community college elections will be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November in each odd-numbered year.

Candidates will still file with the secretary of the local community college board or the secretary's designee; however, the actual conduct of the election now becomes the responsibility of county clerks and the city election commissions.

The terms of office for community college board members were three years previously; now state law says that those terms are to be four years.

Bellevue Area College Board members, whose terms expire this November are Edward O'Malley of Belleville, Elizabeth Jenner of Mascoutah, and John "Jack" Becker of Sparta. No announcement has been made by any of the three as to whether they will run for re-election.

The following election dates are in effect for 1981: Monday, Aug. 17, 1981—First day for candidates for trustee to file nominating petitions.

Monday, Aug. 24, 1981—Last day for candidates to file nominating petitions.

Wednesday, Sept. 9, 1981—Last day for candidates to withdraw.

Tuesday, Nov. 3, 1981—Election day.

Only these offices will be filled in the odd-year non-partisan elections: community college boards, school district boards, trustees of fire protection districts and officers of other special purpose districts such as cemeteries.

Graham watches 'AA' tourney from behind mike

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
CHAMPAIGN — Larry Graham was on the sidelines again here Friday and Saturday at the 10th annual Class AA Basketball State Finals. But this time, he was sitting behind a microphone instead of pacing back and forth shouting instructions to his team.

Graham, whose Madison Trojans won the Class A (small school) state championship last week at the Assembly Hall, was here as a color commentator for Belleville radio station WIBV's coverage of the tournament. But once he was spotted by the media, he was COACH Graham once more. Just as Graham's team had dominated the small school tournament with the exception of one close game (against New Lenox-Providence), Quincy's undefeated Blue Devils easily ruled the rest after a close call with second-ranked Lincoln in the sectional finals. Quincy, ranked in one poll as the top prep team in the nation, looked awesome.

"I'd like to play them," Graham said of Quincy. "I'd like to see if we could get the ball through their press."

"We have a pattern we use to break the press. If we could get it done without any turnovers..."

"I'd like to see little

Madison coach says game with Quincy would be appealing

(Kerwin) Stanley (Trojan guard) go around the big guy (Quincy's 6-9 Michael Payne)," Graham added.

Madison finished its season with the state championship and a 30-2 record. It was the second state championship in the history of the school. Quincy's Blue Devils finished their season with the state championship and a 33-0 record. It was also the second state championship in the history of that school.

"I think we could give them a game," said Graham. "I don't know if we could beat them, but look at what Providence did." New Lenox-Providence played Quincy to a five-point game in the championship of the Pontiac Holiday Tournament. "I think we could handle their press."

"At first, I was awed by their press. But the more I look at it, I see they (Quincy) let up after they get a team down. We've got enough quickness."

There were other similarities between Quincy and Madison. Both are from the southern half of Illinois. Both are on the Mississippi River. Both won two invitational tournaments this season. Both came out of the upper bracket of pairings.

Quincy's team also stayed at the same motel Madison did during the Class A tournament. "Leggett (Quincy coach Jerry) told me they're doing everything we did for good luck," said Graham. "They're eating at all the same restaurants we did, going to all the same places. Keeping the same schedule."

"As if they needed to."

In the week after Graham's team won the small school championship, rumors began circulating concerning Graham's future job aspirations. After all, what more can he do at Madison? He's done it all — twice.

One such grapevine dandy had Graham leaving Madison to take the coaching job at Teutopolis, where his good friend of many years, Lawrence Carrie, is stepping down.

"No, I'm not going to Teutopolis," offered Graham. "I'd be silly to take just about any high school job right now. With the money problems most (school) districts are having and the teacher cut-backs, I'd be the first one to go since I'd have been the last one hired."

Will Graham be back on the bench for Madison next season? "As far as I know," he said. "I hope so."

So do a lot of basketball fans in Madison.

Quincy rolls to state title

Devils leave no doubt

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
CHAMPAIGN — Jerry Leggett cradled the trophy in his arms as if it was a baby. He stared at it, oblivious to the thousands of screaming Quincy fans around him. He hugged it. He petted it. In the midst of a celebration, this was a private moment.

Leggett, whose Quincy Blue Devils had just pounded Proviso East 68-39 for the state Class AA basketball championship at the Assembly Hall here Saturday night, had finally won his trophy. His team had won it. After a three-year record of 91-3 and a second place finish in 1979, the Blue Devils did it. They became only the 10th team to complete an undefeated season in the 74-year history of state basketball.

At the beginning of the season, Leggett announced his team's goal — the state championship.

"This town deserves a winner," said Leggett in the post-game press conference. "It's tradition. It's the way the kids grow up in Quincy. They all want to play basketball for Quincy High School."

And why not? In his five years as head coach at Quincy, Leggett has compiled a record of 128-19. "If I hold up five fingers, all the Quincy grade school and junior high players in the stands know what play I'm calling for," said Leggett. "The system remains true throughout the schools."

Michael Payne, Quincy's 6-9 All-State center who has already announced his intentions to play at Iowa next year, agreed. "The seventh and eighth graders, they play the same offense we do," he said. Payne grabbed 16 rebounds for Quincy, which held an overwhelming 58-24 edge in rebounding in the title game.

Quincy (33-0), which captured the second state championship in its history (the other came in 1949), made a shambles of the tournament. It cruised through the final three games like a hot knife through so much butter. In Friday's quarterfinals, it routed Antioch 75-50. In Saturday's semifinals, it smashed Wheaton Central 65-34. The 85 point cumulative spread was the second largest in tournament history.

Collinsville's 1961 unbeaten champions won by a cumulative total of 94 points. The 1972 unbeaten Thorndike championship team won by 83. Other unbeaten champs were Rockford (1911), Taylorville (1944), Mt. Vernon (1950), LaGrange Township (1953), Chicago Marshall (1958), LaGrange Lyons (1970) and Lockport (1978).

Saturday, the outcome was in doubt for only the first five minutes, when the Pirates matched the Devils basket for basket. Slowly but surely, Proviso wilted just as 32 teams had before.

Quincy jumped out to a 19-8 lead at the end of the first quarter and was off to the races. The Devils never looked back.

"It's a sickening feeling to sit on the bench when you're behind by 20 points," said Proviso East coach Glenn Whittenberg, whose 1971 team won the state title. "It's only happened to me once before, and that was by (Boyd) Batts and (Quinn) Buckner and that good Thorndike team. But this time, it was worse because it was for the state title. Quincy's fantastic. I'd have to say right now they're unbeatable."

Quincy did it all without its famous full-court press. "They (Proviso) were quicker than us, I thought," said Leggett. "That's why we didn't press. We just wanted to run our offense and save some on defense."

The Blue Devils held a 32-20 halftime lead. "We were behind 12 points at halftime because Quincy was getting the second and third shots all night," said Whittenberg. "They're the best rebounding team we've played against."

"Hell, they're the fastest team, the tallest team, the best offensive team. They're the best team we've seen. Period."

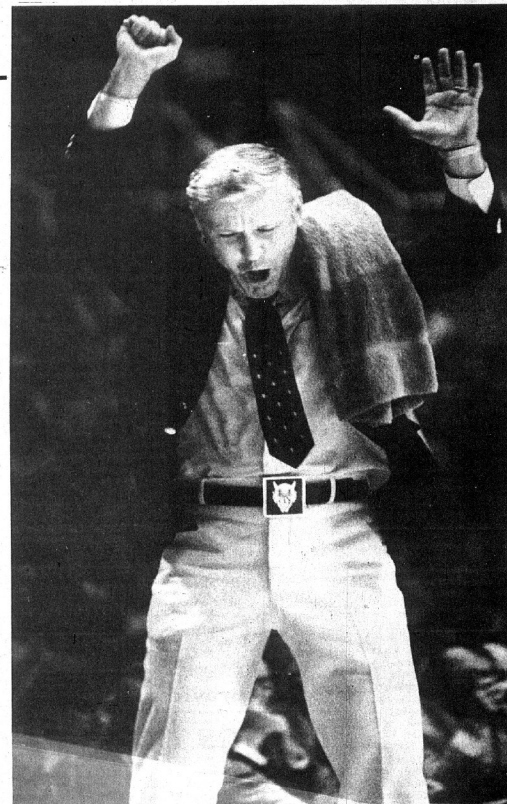

Quincy made 29 of 56 field goal attempts (52 percent), while Proviso East managed only 16 of 57 (28 percent).

Quincy could have had a bigger advantage in rebounds if not for its unusual practice of tapping out the defensive rebounds to a teammate to start its sizzling fast-break. The leader of most of those dashes down the floor was 6-3 junior guard Bruce Douglas, who finished the game with 19 points. "He's not only the greatest junior in Illinois," praised Leggett. "He's the greatest junior in the United States." Bruce's brother Dennis, a 6-4, 225 pound sophomore starter, led all title game scorers with 21 points.

QUINCY: Hawkins 8, D. Douglas 21, B. Douglas 19, Payne 3, Allen 6, Lepper 3, Sparrow 2, FG 29, FT 10-20, PF 12.

PROVISO EAST: Ashford 1, Henderson 6, Monegain 8, Hubbard 13, Cooper 8, Frison 2, Armstrong 1, FG 16, FT 7, PF 20.

Devils 19 13 18 18-68
Pirates 8 12 11 8-39

JUMP FOR JOY. Quincy head coach Jerry Leggett whoops it up as the final buzzer sounds ending the Class AA state championship game won by his team Saturday night at the Assembly Hall in Champaign. Quincy finished the season with a 33-0 record and is the second state basketball champion from downstate this season. Last week, Madison's Trojans won the Class A title.

Select scrimmage ends in tie

EDWARDSVILLE — It's just getting interested in baseball and hearing that pre-season football practice is about to begin. A great attention has been diverted to the high school basketball championships and the collegiate national tournament. But people will find that outdoor soccer is just around the corner. In fact, it started here Saturday. It was the first scrimmage of the season and a good practice. The Illinois State Select Soccer Team got its wheels, or rather, its feet moving at the S.I.U. at Edwardsville field over the weekend when it took on a team of the best Missouri players. The scrimmage ended in a 0-0 tie. The reason for the scrimmage is to find a select number of players that will represent the state of Illinois in the Regional Tournament that will begin at the end of May. The tourney site will be at the University of Wisconsin at Park Side.

Westinghouse holds off Wheaton for 3rd

CHAMPAIGN — The Westinghouse Warriors made up a little for their semifinal loss to Proviso East.

Westinghouse held off a late charge by Wheaton Central's Tigers here Saturday night to win the third place game at the Class AA State Tournament, 53-47.

Wheaton Central, which fell to eventual state champion Quincy in the day's other semifinal contest, held the early hot hand and had a two-point lead at the halftime break, 24-22. But the third quarter did the Tigers in.

Westinghouse outscored Wheaton Central 14-7 in the third period and held the Tigers at bay the rest of the game.

Wheaton held a 28-23 lead early in the third period before the roof caved in. Westinghouse's Warriors went on a 15-3 scoring streak and took firm control of the game.

"I'm happy with the way our kids played," said Westinghouse coach Frank Lollino. "There were a lot of people who said we didn't belong down here (in the Elite Eight). But there are 283 double-A schools and 280 lost out before we tied."

"We wanted to play Quincy to see how we'd match up. But we still get to take a trophy home. I'm happy we set a record while we were here."

Westinghouse set a record for most rebounds in one game in its semifinal loss to Proviso East. The Warriors grabbed 63 rebounds to break the mark of 56 set by Proviso East in a 1974 semifinal win over Breese Mater Dei.

"We hustled to get back into the game," said Wheaton coach Don MacDoe. "But things just didn't go our way."

Steamers clinch semifinal berth

Special to the Press-Record
BUFFALO — The St. Louis Steamers held off the Buffalo Stallions twice here Saturday night in the fourth quarter and came away with a 6-5 victory and a berth in next weekend's Major Indoor Soccer League Championship Semifinals, which will be played at the Checkerdome in St. Louis.

The Steamers swept the best-of-three quarterfinal series 2-0.

Twice the Steamers built up two-goal leads late in the fourth quarter — and twice Buffalo came back seconds later to bring it back to a one-goal lead for St. Louis.

Steamer Tony Glavin scored from Emilio Romero at the 12:39 mark of the fourth period with his second goal of the game to make it 5-3. But nine seconds later, Buffalo's Mike Laschev made it 5-4. At the 14:32 mark, St. Louis' Don Ebert scored his second of the game, an unassisted goal to make it 6-4. But nine seconds later, Buffalo got back to within one goal when Laschev scored again.

Other scorers for St. Louis were Greg Villa and Yilmaz Orhan.

St. Louis will play next Friday night in the MISL semifinals.

GOING FOR IT. Quincy's 6-9 All-America center Michael Payne (in white) goes for a loose ball Saturday night with Provisto East's Darryl McDonald during the Class AA championship game at the Assembly Hall in Champaign. Payne grabbed 16 rebounds to help his team to its 33rd victory without a loss this season, 68-39. Provisto East finished the season at 28-5.

South thinclads lost much

By TOM SCHOCKER of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — Good talent lost is always hard to replace. It might take a year or two to get it back. But Mei Bunting doesn't have that long. As the head track coach at Granite City South, he has a season to think of — this one.

Losing four top seniors to graduation left a number of big gaps in 10 events for the Warriors. Spots that will be hard to fill. Positions that won the Gateway East Conference championship meet last year for South.

Steve Adams is just an example of what the Warriors will be missing. A state qualifier in the pole vault, Adams, in the conference meet, won the 100 yard dash, the 300 yard low hurdles, the pole vault and was on a leg of the winning mile relay team. "You just don't replace someone like that in a year," said Bunting.

Although concerned, Bunting is taking the 1981 season with an "interesting" outlook. "In the long run, the season could turn out nice," said Bunting. "We won't score the early points like last year, but we'll be respectable."

A lot of the empty events will probably be filled with underclassmen according to Bunting, but South will try and counter it with its strength in the middle and longer distances. "As you know, distance runners are as dedicated as any athlete," said Bunting. "Right now, the weather has really helped. Our times are better. But, that is subject to change. It will depend on how our younger kids perform. "They're quality underclassmen and if they mature, we'll be competitive."

Whereas graduation has left some doubt in many areas, South can feel confident with its group of long distance men. The Warrior's mainstay and top pointer getter in the mile run will be Drew Geisler. A senior, Geisler presently has the tenth best indoor time in the state. This is according to the Timely Times, the track newsletter for the state. Geisler will also be running the two mile. Other milers and two miles are Juniors Dave McLain and Ron Brown along with senior Jeff Taylor.

The 880 yard run will find senior Tim Ds and Juniors Jim McQuade and Steve Dumont gathering in the top points. In the quicker events, senior Don Keeling will head the group of sprinters involved in the 100, 220, 440 and relay races.

Another senior, Robbie Mann, joins Keeling along with sophomores Bill Smith and Rich Mumphant. An experience coach takes care of the high hurries. Only one junior, Scott Abbott, is among the top seniors of Pat Cowens and Scott Buhann.

The experience draws a little thin as the Warriors close into their field events. "We have a lot of younger kids in the field events," said Bunting. "Hopefully, they'll come along later in the year and help us with some points. Seniors Mike Matthei and Jeff Draves take charge of the weights (shotput and discus).

Trojans have number dilemma

MADISON — It's only been a little over a week since the Madison High Trojans won their second state basketball title. And people are still buzzing about it. But, some of them have their minds on another sport. Because, it's spring, it means baseball and the Trojans will be cranking up their season. Madison head baseball coach John Paskus is handed a dilemma nearly every season — numbers. "We only 30 players on the varsity squad right now," said Paskus. "Near the end of the season, that number will probably be down to 25. What it amounts to is that everyone will be helping everybody else out. We just don't a lot of bodies out here."

Pitching is where the Trojans need the most help. Madison doesn't have one bonified hurler for the season. "The success of our season will greatly depend on pitching," said Paskus. "I'll have a lot of guys that usually play the infield or outfield that will do some pitching. I have no other choice."

Lack of experience will not enhance Madison's chance for a banner season, either. The Trojans have only three seniors on the squad and two of them will be playing tennis in addition. But, according to Paskus, there won't be conflict.

Despite the problems facing Madison this season, which Paskus faced with last season, the Trojans still look to be competitive. "They'll play good ball," said Paskus.

"They're go-getters. They wouldn't be out here if they didn't want to play. So, attitude is no problem."

To counter their lack of pitching depth, the Trojans plan to try and hit their way to victories. "I think we'll be able to hit the ball fairly good," said Paskus. "I know other teams will hit against us, but if we can hit, I think we'll do alright."

Two of Paskus' better hitters that will be in the starting line-up are senior Ed Forister and junior Jeff Niehaus. According to Paskus, Forister will play shortstop and do some catching. Niehaus will be Madison's first baseman. But the beginning of every season has its juggling of players, trying to find the right person for the right position. "Sure, I'm confused about where some people are going to go," said Paskus. "But, I know who to put on the ball field for our first game."

Steelers sport 'new look'

By TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Over the past few years Harry Lang has seen and worked with, basically, the same types of teams. He's known how to put them together. Lang, Granite City North track coach, will have a different looking Steeler team this year. And he couldn't be happier.

The Steelers have been primarily a relay type team for the last couple of seasons. But 1981 has brought a change of pace. "We'll be a different type of team this year," said Lang. "In the past, we have been very deep in a lot of events. We've had a lot of people, doing a lot of things. Traditionally, we have won the relay meets and lost the open or individual meets. At this stage of the game, it appears that the trend has reversed. "We seem to be winning the open meets and losing the relays. Potentially, it makes us a stronger team. There are 14 individual events and only four relays. You are going to get more points, if you're an open team."

According to Lang, North's problem, if there is a problem, is that it doesn't have enough depth to put together the relay teams. The Steelers have had fair individuals that, when put together, make up a good relay squad. Now, North has a number of individual quality runners in each event.

North will be that much better, because each of the events will have seniors in the running. "We are mostly a senior team," said Lang. "That's the reason why we will be able to run good in the open meets."

Heading the way will be North's state cross country qualifier, senior Bruce DeRuntz. He'll make things tough in the mile and two mile. Senior Jon Bunch takes charge of the 800 yard run, as senior Kevin Buchanan loads things up in the 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes. In fact, there is only one non-senior runner that Langs thinks is one of his top racers. Junior Mark McWhorter joins Buchanan in the 440.

Tim Ritzki is another senior that will bring experience as he tackles the high hurdles and the 300 meter low hurdles. "We don't just have that one top runner," said Lang. "We do have the two, three and four position runners, too. It's just that they are not as good of quality, yet, as the front runners."

The Steelers have managed to turn, what was once a weak area of their program, into a strength. One that has a rarity of depth. Led by senior Mike Long, North's shot put group looks to be a contender among area teams. Long is accompanied by more experience in seniors Mike Jackson and Jack Trittschuh. In fact, some of North's field events have moved towards improvement.

Seniors Bobby Meyer and Mike Robinson have been doing well as the pole vaulters. "I know where the points are and where they're not," said Lang. "If the people keep progressing, North will be scoring some big points in the big meets. We took it on the chin a couple of times last year, because we weren't capable of getting first place in the open events. We'll be a lot better dual meet team. Better, because we have more quality."

Although North seems to have a bright outlook, Lang would not be committed to say how his Steelers would fair with the area teams and in the Gateway East Conference meet. They finished third last year. "I would have to see what everybody else had first," said Lang. "Now, if everybody else has the same type of team we got, well, then the conference meet will be a bear. There will be some good running."

"If we progress as we have so far, we'll be contenders. We'll definitely be a better open meet team than last year and that's where the conference is determined."

Trojans lose triangular meet

MADISON — The Madison High boys track team dropped a three-way decision here Thursday to Wesclin (Trenton) and Dupo.

Wesclin's Warriors won the meet with 71½ points. Dupo was second with 55½ points. Madison's Trojans finished with 46 points.

In the 440 yard relay event, Madison's squad tied for first place. Members of the group are Charles Fuller, Shawn Brown, Tyrone Manzy and Ray Price.

Shawn Brown finished fourth for the Trojans in the 100 yard dash. His time for the event was 11.3 seconds.

Raymond Price took second place in the 440 yard run. His time was 2:19.3.

The Trojans' 880 yard relay team finished second in that event. Members of the squad are Charles Fuller, Shawn Brown, Tyrone Manzy and Bernard Harper. Their time for the race was 1:42.4.

In the 440 yard run, Madison's Orlando Buckles finished second. His time for the event was 58.4 seconds.

The Trojans had two place-getters in the 220 yard dash. Tyrone Manzy finished second in a time of 26.7 seconds. Santos Howard finished in fourth place. He was clocked in a time of 27.1 seconds.

Madison's mile relay team finished in first place. The foursome of Charles Fuller, Bernard Harper, Raymond Price and Orlando Buckles finished the event with a time of 3:31.9.

Madison finished one-two in the shot put. Bernard Harper finished in the top spot with a distance of 41 feet, seven inches. Lathan finished second with a distance of 38 feet, seven inches.

Madison's Jeff Robertson gave the Trojans another first place with his finish in the discus throw. His distance in the event was 118 feet, one inch.

The best the Trojans could manage in the long jump (in recent years a Madison stronghold) was a third place finish by Elmer Collins. His jump was 17 feet, nine inches. Shawn Brown of Madison had a leap of 17 feet, one and a half inches.

Collins finished second for the Trojans in the triple jump with a distance of 34 feet, five and a half inches.

John Louis of Madison was fourth in the high jump with a height of five feet, two inches. Bernard Harper had a nine foot leap in the pole vault which was good enough to give him second place in the event.

The next meet for the Madison boys will be today (Monday) at Cahokia, beginning at 3:30 p.m.

Effingham drops

CHAMPAIGN — Wheaton Central's Tigers slowed down here Friday afternoon and came away with a 38-33 upset victory over Effingham's Flaming Hearts and their 7-2 German exchange center Uwe Blab in the quarterfinals of the Class AA State Basketball Tournament at the Assembly Hall.

Wheaton double-teamed Blab the entire game and worked on keeping him away from the basket. He finished the game with 17 points, but missed an easy shot from point-blank range in the closing minutes that would have put his team ahead.

Wheaton then came down the court and scored to go up by three points, 36-33, instead of being behind by one.

Wheaton was playing without its best player, 6-5 center George Turner, who was sidelined with a fractured ankle in the Super-Regionals.

Last season, Blab and now shot from point-blank range in the closing minutes that would have put his team ahead. Other quarterfinal scores were: Chicago Westinghouse 62, New Trier East 60; Quincy 75, Antioch 50; Proviso East 74, Moline 62.

Baker, Davenport shine

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. — Seven members of the Illinois State University track team will compete in the NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championships Friday and Saturday at Joe Louis Arena in Detroit. The Redbirds will enter four events, including the mile relay for the fourth year in a row. ISU coach John Coughlan thinks the relay team has a chance to place in the meet.

"Our biggest problem is the banked, board track with tight turns at Joe Louis Arena," said Coughlan. "It could affect us because we aren't used to it."

The relay team starts with senior Brian Little of Peoria (Woodruff) and continues with freshmen Terry Meneses of Largo, Fla. and Jerry Monix of Chicago (Phillips). Sophomore Ernest Davenport of Madison anchors the group which ran an indoor best of 3:13.04 at the Illinois Invitational in Champaign. June 1980, Baker of Granite City (North) will enter the three-mile run with a chance to place among the top six native Americans in an event traditionally dominated by runners from other countries.

"Mike's been nursing a sore foot," said Coughlan. "Still, he has one of the six best times by American this year." Baker's best was 13:32.65 at Eastern Illinois. Rusty Bilbruck of Alton enters the 35-pound weight throw with a top toss of 61-10½ at the Central Collegiate meet. A junior, Bilbruck will have to have his best day to reach the finals, according to Coughlan.

"It's not out of the question for Rusty to place," said Coughlan. "In the weight throw, there are never any sho-ins."

qualified for the 1,000-yard run with a time of 2:10.1 against Northern Illinois. Kirk has been hampered by the flu lately.

"Mike has worked very hard," said Coughlan. "We're hopeful he'll be strong enough to be competitive."

Coughlan claims Texas-El Paso will take the team championship.

"UTEP has too many Olympic-quality athletes in the top events to be beaten," said Coughlan. "Villanova, as always, is outstanding and could push UTEP. From the Midwest, Illinois has the best chance of placing in the top five or six because of great depth."

opts for Cougars

EDWARDSVILLE — Patty Tiddy, mainstay of the Collinsville High School tennis team this past year, has signed a letter of intent to enroll at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville next September, it was announced today by Bob Meyers, SIUE women's tennis team coach.

"Patricia has a very good chance of taking over our No. 4 or No. 5 slot next fall," predicted Meyers. "She has a lot of talent and determination to improve her game," he added.

Since women's tennis in Illinois is a fall sport, Tiddy's prep record is complete at 22-4. She won two matches in last year's Illinois State High School Tournament in Chicago, Oct. 23-25. She defeated Ellen O'Reilly of New Leuz Providence, two-and-two, and turned back Leslie Pilot of Chicago

Kenwood, 6-1, 6-2, but bowed to Nenah Pratt, Normal Community High, 1-6, 6-7, with the tie-breaker going against her, 7-9.

Tiddy was seeded No. 1 in the Illinois District tournament with the loss of only six games over four matches. She wallowed Tracey Holloway, E. St. Louis, 6-0, 6-0; was almost as overpowering in turning back Lisa Voellinger of Belleville's Althoff High, 6-0, 6-1; dropped just three games in beating Belleville East's Darlene Arnold, 6-2, 6-1; and defeated Kris Borowy of Collinsville, 6-2, 6-0, for the championship and trip to the state tournament.

Although the scrimmage ended in a 0-0 deadlock, the Illinois team has to feel confident in its first performance. The Missouri squad was made up mostly of Missouri and S.I.U. players. Designated as blue, the Illinois team reeled off 15 shots as Szeles, Mann, Beljanski and Castiller gave the boys Belleville West and now at Eastern, and Art Kramer.

Chamber proposes reversing traffic on Benton and State

A proposal to reverse the direction of traffic on Benton and State streets and to remove a number of stop signs to improve traffic flow between downtown and Nameoki Road was presented to the Granite City Council last week by a representative of the traffic committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

Tom Thebeau of that committee said his group has been studying traffic flows between downtown and Nameoki Road and have made after a professional traffic study done in 1973. The recommendations include reversing the direction of Benton Street to make it southbound from 20th to 27th streets, turning State Street into a one-way northbound street from Niedringhaus Avenue to 27th Street and removing several stop signs to make Benton and State streets more enticing to motorists traveling between downtown and Nameoki Road.

He contended increased use of Benton Street toward downtown and State Street toward Nameoki Road would relieve some of the congestion on Madison Avenue.

Also, making Benton Street one-way southbound would eliminate a hazardous intersection where Fehling Road, Benton Street and 27th Street intersect by Wilson Park. Benton also would provide better access to the 19th Street overpass when it is completed than would Adams Street or Cleveland Boulevard.

Motorists traveling from Nameoki Road on Fehling Road toward downtown now have to make a dangerous left turn on 27th Street, meeting northbound Benton Street traffic head-on, and then have to turn right either on Cleveland Boulevard, Delmar Avenue or State Street to reach downtown, encountering several stop signs on each street.

The traffic committee says that if the directions of traffic flow on Benton and State streets are reversed, all stop signs should be removed on Benton except at 20th and 23rd streets and all stops on State should be removed except at 23rd and 27th streets.

That would improve the traffic flow on those streets, as well as making 23rd Street the central corridor for east-west traffic in the central city area and providing a safer route for fire and emergency equipment.

There are several disadvantages to the plan, Thebeau admitted, saying the increased traffic on Benton, State and 23rd Street would require additional police patrols, might increase accidents in proportion with the traffic increase, may inconvenience residents of Benton and State streets who will have to change their traffic habits to reach their homes and may cause some temporary confusion to the motorists, until they get used to the changes.

On a motion by Alderman Paul Ray Bowler of the Seventh Ward, the Chamber's recommendations were referred to the city council's traffic committee and to the aldermen of the wards involved.

Alderman Roy Poulos of the Third Ward, who is retiring May 1 from the council, said he has opposed similar plans since he became an alderman. "We have plenty of problems on Benton without the Chamber giving us a few more. This is not going to help the downtown area one iota," Poulos contended.

Previous proposals to reverse the flow of traffic on some streets have been opposed by the council due to the objections of the residents of those streets, who fear increased traffic congestion, speeding, pollution and other problems.

Break into 3 offices

About 15 silver dimes, 25 sterling silver necklaces and five sterling silver bracelets were stolen during a burglary of three offices in the same building at 3910 Nameoki Road last week.

Entry gained by forcing a main door to the Gold Coin and Jewelry Shop and the missing items were taken from a display case.

From that shop, opening an adjoining door allowed the burglar into Creative Travel Service and then entry from the travel service to Kern Employment Agency was gained by removing loose paneling covering another adjoining door.

Nothing is known missing from either the travel office or the employment agency.

RE-ELECT
PAUL RAY BOWLER
INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE—ALDERMAN 7th WARD
"HE CARES"

The great debate

terference from the city of Granite City.

Decatour addressed the question next and said he is "proud of the school system." If he is elected mayor, he said, he would try to improve the education of the children by cracking down on drug sales and use in and near the schools. Drugs now are becoming a problem in the fourth and fifth grade levels, he said, noting that students do not learn much when they are "high."

"As mayor, I would fight this. We have good teachers, but one of the big problems is getting the attention of the students," he concluded.

Mayor Schuler praised the school district as "one of the best in the state of Illinois," and said he is proud of the education his children have received here. He said the school system is important and receives the support of the city administration whenever necessary.

CITY PLANNING

The next question concerned the lack of a comprehensive zoning plan for Granite City and what each candidate would do to improve zoning and planning.

Decatour said, "I think this city needs a long-range urban renewal program and one of my promises is I will do that." He said previous comprehensive zoning plans have been "scuttled" and that a long-range urban renewal program would have high priority under his administration.

Schuler noted that the city has been working on an update of the zoning ordinance for more than a year but completion of the plan was delayed when the expert preparing the document quit to accept another job.

He said the city needs more commercial classifications and predicted, "In a month or so, you'll see quite a change."

Partney pointed out the problems of spot zoning where businesses have been allowed in residential neighborhoods and said that because the city did not have a comprehensive zoning plan, the courts upheld the businesses.

When the zoning plan was completed, he said, he would place "where they should be to make them thriving," he said.

DOWNTOWN DECAY?
Livingston asked if the candidates feel the downtown area is in a state of decay and what can be done to improve the situation.

Schuler contended, "I think the trend has been reversed." He said he sees commercial renovations, remodelings and new businesses downtown, including a new water company building. "The first new building downtown since I can remember."

He said the city considered applying for a federal UDAG (Urban Development Action Grant) several years ago to rehabilitate downtown and found out that stipulation of the grant would be to require more minority persons in Kirkpatrick Homes. "Washington doesn't do anything for nothing," he said, noting the city rejected the grant, "because we don't want to knuckle under to federal edicts."

He said a plan to use tax increment financing to improve downtown is under active study by his administration.

Partney contended that the decay of the downtown area is a result of poor leadership by the city administration, and said he feels an active administration could sponsor a high-rise building, better traffic flow and perhaps revive the use of a downtown mall. "I think a mall is a good idea," he said.

He said he feels Community Development funds could be used for such downtown improvements without further burdening the taxpayers.

Decatour said he has been active for about 20 years on various city and Chamber committees attempting to improve the downtown and has seen some success, such as the tree plantings along the downtown sidewalks. He agreed with Schuler that downtown is improving, rather than decaying, as evidenced by the remodeling of the Washington Theater into a ballroom, the opening of a new disco and arcade and other improvements.

He believed with the shortage of gas (gasoline), people are going to come back downtown," he predicted. He said he feels a plan is particularly needed between 16th and 18th streets from State Street to Cleveland Boulevard.

which should include housing rehabilitation, a restaurant apartment building and a quick food shop.

He noted that young people cannot afford to buy houses at today's prices, so will have to turn to apartment living. If apartments are available downtown, the walking traffic from those residents would improve the business climate downtown, he stated.

TRAFFIC CONTROLS

The next question dealt with the lack of a comprehensive traffic study for the city since 1973 and what the candidates would do to improve traffic flow.

Partney stated, "There are way too many stop signs in Granite City," and contended, "We need another comprehensive engineered traffic study in Granite City."

He also stated, "The city aldermen are going to have to get used to just putting up a stop sign and saying, 'We are going to continue to have problems.'"

Partney noted there was a complete study in 1964, which was scrapped and the 1973 study resulted in some progress. "In my first month on the council, I took down about 10 stop signs in the Fourth Ward. He said the aldermen erroneously feel they know all about traffic flow, stating, 'It is interesting. We have 14 traffic engineers on our council.'"

"We've had all the studies we need. We know what to do," Decatour concluded.

Schuler said the council carefully considered the 1973 TOPICS study. "We took those parts we thought we could live with," he said. Five major intersections were improved at that time, he added.

"There is an updating need and I think the city council will see that an updating and study are made," Schuler concluded.

BETTER TRUCK ROUTE?
The candidates were asked if they feel that the present truck route on 18th Street will be sufficient once the 19th Street overpass is completed.

Partney said he feels a redirecting will be necessary and contended, "Trucks will be unable to make the turn onto 18th Street. It is a problem which will possibly have to be confronted by a traffic engineer."

Decatour said trucks now ignore the truck route and drive through the downtown area. "As mayor, I would get an answer to it," he pledged.

Schuler agreed that the truck route, "is not being used an awful lot by trucks, but, where practical, we try to funnel them in that direction."

He said he feels the current truck route will be sufficient to serve trucks from the two-lane overpass.

WAR ON DRUGS?
The candidates were asked if they additional measures are warranted to fight drugs and crime.

Decatour spoke first saying he has long been an advocate of hiring more policemen, saying Alton and Belleville have 60 officers each while Granite City has 51.

He said he feels more policemen can be hired without large increases in budget by putting more officers on foot and saving some of the money spent on cars. He noted that $86,000 was spent maintaining police cars last year and $56,000 was spent for new cars. "We can get by with fewer cars and more policemen," Decatour said.

Schuler said that as long as Decatour has been on the council's finance committee, that committee has never recommended hiring more policemen. "I would like to see the police department increased, but you can't have your cake and eat it too."

"We have one of the finest police departments in the state of Illinois and statistics prove that," he said, adding, "Although the crime rate is slightly higher, we are still much lower than the national average."

"If we can find the money, we will increase the police department," Schuler pledged.

Partney said there are many fine, qualified policemen in Granite City, but said he believes hiring and promotions have been based on politics, rather than ability.

He said he would save money by returning to the one-man squad cars at all times, would reinstitute the canine corps and would see that advanced training schools are offered to all officers.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

The final question asked by Livingston was what the candidates would do to retain industry in the city and to attract new industry.

Decatour said that with rail, barge, highway, foreign trade zone, sewer, water and other industrial needs readily available here, Granite City is "one of the prime areas in the United States for industrial growth."

He noted that the city annexed 427 acres last year for an industrial park and one plant, Pre-Coat Metals, has already been built. He said he is hopeful that a large industry, such as Datsun automotive, will come to Granite City, but said the state must work to correct "the burden of workmen's compensation and unemployment insurance," on businesses in Illinois.

He said he feels the city "should have a strong annexation policy to bring more industrial land into the city," and noted, "We may step on some toes in Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships, but I say I don't care. I want to bring them in."

He said he felt the criticism of the city council and aldermen was unjustified. "I deserted its plant here was unjustified. I did everything in my power to keep that from happening. Everyone here recognizes the business agent of this local would not even let his people vote to stay here," Decatour alleged.

Schuler commented that the industrial climate of Granite City is healthy, as witnessed by a quarter of a million dollars of new industrial and industrial expansion in recent years. "If this is not a vote of confidence, I would like to know what is," he said.

He listed the new and expanded industries in the city and stated, "I think Granite City has done a tremendous job of bringing industry into the city."

Partney disagreed, saying the unemployment rate in Granite City is higher than in St. Louis and the city needs a more active industrial revenue bond program, tax abatements for new industry and some type of labor-management group to assure that industries operate smoothly.

The city also needs an industrial commission, Partney contended, to help attract industries, building and zoning laws have to be modernized, so industries considering moving into Granite City "won't have to worry about the legislation once they get into Granite City."

He said he would also insist that new businesses coming into Granite City with financial assistance from the city hire primarily local workers. "So we can get Granite City people back to work."

In their summaries, the candidates reviewed their platforms and asked for support in the April 7 mayor's election.

Schuler said he is proud of his list of accomplishments, including the new police facility, the Nameoki fire station, the city ambulances, improvement of the police department, reduction of the fire insurance rates and others.

"I think we got Granite City going extremely well and are going to keep going," he said and he predicted he will be the city's mayor for the next four years, during which he hopes to implement plans for a new library in the Nameoki area, another overpass in the northeastern part of the city, revitalization of the downtown area and other projects.

"We have a lot of plans and we are going to do them," Schuler concluded.

In his closing remarks, Decatour said he hopes "to bring merit and trust back into city government. I have seen some things I have not really appreciated."

He said merit hiring by the police and fire departments is needed, contending that the children of city officials and employees always seem to do better on merit tests than others. "Why is a policeman's son so much brighter?" he asked. "I guarantee your daughter or your son will have an equal chance at a job if I am elected mayor," he said.

Partney asked the members of the audience if they are proud of downtown decay, Kirkpatrick Homes, older neighborhoods which are deteriorating, traffic congestion on Nameoki Road and rising taxes. "If you are proud of these things, then I say vote for the incumbent. If you are not proud, then I want you to vote for an active, aggressive mayor, which I would be."

"By this and for this, the people would have back an administration that has these goals in mind," Partney concluded.

To offer circuit breaker aid at special meeting Thursday

All Granite City residents eligible to file a circuit breaker tax rebate form are invited to attend a special meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday, in the Nameoki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin Avenues.

The meeting is being sponsored by Seventh Ward Aldermen Paul Ray Bowler and Michael Modrusic for all residents in the community, it was stressed. Questions concerning tax rebate exemptions under the circuit breaker provision will be answered, and assistance will be available to those wishing to complete the appropriate form during the meeting, Alderman Bowler said.

A person is eligible to file a circuit breaker form if he or she was 65 years of age or older, received social security benefits for the year 1980 and has a household income of less than $12,000. Also eligible under this rebate provision are persons 16 years or older, before Jan. 1, 1980, who are on Social Security Disability with a household income of less than $12,000 for 1980.

Alderman Bowler said those filing for circuit breaker rebates must have been a resident of Illinois during 1980 and still a resident of the state at the time of filing.

The household income figure is derived from the amount of wages, social security, pension, dividends, interest, accumulated, veterans benefits and capital gains an individual has received throughout the year, it was explained.

Alderman Bowler said the form requires such information as the amount of rent which was paid during the year, or the amount of taxes which were paid in 1980 on property.

A person in a nursing, shelter or retirement home in Illinois may also file the circuit breaker form by listing the amount that was paid for such items as food, medical services and laundry. Funds which have been paid from other sources, such as Public Aid, may not be included for rebate, the aldermen noted. The amount of a grant received by an individual is based on what was paid out in rent, taxes and other considerations, minus a percentage of household income.

Forms will be filled out for persons attending the meeting, if they can provide such information as the gross amount of social security received in 1980, pension and other sources of income, their social security number and their spouse's number, if filing jointly.

The aldermen said it may be wise to call the Social Security office before Thursday's meeting to get the amount of total benefits received in 1980, as figures may differ between the first six months of 1980 and the second six months of last year.

Those wishing to have forms completed on Thursday night also must have the total amount of taxes, rent, nursing home services which were expended in 1980.

The forms will be addressed to the appropriate authority, stamped and mailed by volunteers at the meeting, Alderman Bowler said.

Family members of persons eligible for tax rebate under the circuit breaker provision also may obtain forms and receive help in completing the documents, if the eligible individual cannot attend the session; in person, the aldermen emphasized.

Refreshments will be served during the meeting.

Details discussed for citywide clean-up drive

Members of the Community Pride Committee of the Tri-City Area Chamber of Commerce met last week to make final arrangements for the area-wide clean-up drive scheduled April 25 through May 1. About 300 Girl and Boy Scouts will be awarded patches for participating on April 25. A five day clean-up from April 27 through May 1 will follow which will cover alleys, garages, basements, industrial and business buildings, as well as city and state roads and city intersections.

Dan Debert, chairman of the pick-up program has contacted all the cities' street superintendents and city and state trucks will be on hand to pick up trash. Ron Ross and Jim Walla of SCA Services will be working 24 hours a day with three dumpsters to haul trash to the landfill on Chain of Rocks Road. No chemicals, paint, gasoline, tree stumps or vehicle bodies can be picked up.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stogsdill, who represent REACT in the program, have Channel 3 as a base station which will be used to take care of any emergencies for the full six day clean-up.

Jim Steele and Dave Eads of McDonalds have ordered 6,000 trash bags and will give out "fries certificates" to scouts taking part in the program. Walter Milton of Pepsi-Cola will also donate soda to the scouts.

Milton presented and donated four painted signs which will be hung over streets to call attention to the Clean-up Days. Three more signs have been donated by the Granite City Canvas Co. Randall Irwin, John Pornaszewski and Georgia Engelke will serve as judges for the Clean-up Poster Contest. Parochial and public school children in the 6-12 age group will take part in this contest. A $100 savings bond, a $75 savings bond and a $50 savings bond will be awarded for the three best entries. Posters will be picked up the morning of April 1.

Debbie Marshall and Myra Parrish of the Girl Scouts office and Joe Gosney of the Boy Scouts identified the following stations for scouts to meet on April 25:

St. Joseph's School, Emerson, Logan, Webster, St. Margaret Mary, Nameoki, St. Elizabeth, Maryville, Mitchell, Granite City Savings and Loan, and Madison City Hall.

Girl and Boy Scouts will place posters and clean-up notifications throughout the five communities.

Lacy Randolph reported an excellent response of the Industries of the area. All will cooperate and recognize that "Good Housekeeping is the keynote to Safety."

Three new members of DeMolay chapters here

Steven W. Elmore, Robert G. Petty and Thomas D. Wicker became members of James Stuart Chapter of Order of DeMolay Sunday afternoon, March 15, at the Scottish Rite Cathedral in Belleville. They were three of 19 Southern Illinois young men who composed a class receiving the initiatory and DeMolay degrees named to honor Norman R. Buecker, most worshipful grand master of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Illinois.

The event marked the first day of the International DeMolay Week. The degree was conferred by Lewis & Clark Chapter, Cahokia, Ill.; the DeMolay degree by the Illini Chapter of Knights and the fourth section by Mascoutah Chapter.

Carrol R. Sinks Jr. presided as master counselor of Illinois DeMolay Region 2.

Neal Mize of James Stuart Chapter was senior deacon for the opening and closing. The DeMolay "Flower Talk" was given by Tom Jackson of Mount Vernon, state champion. Other local DeMolays attending were: David Corbett, Pat Gibbons, Robert Heblthwaite Jr., Ralph McKinney Jr., Dave Medley, Darren Miller, Matt Miller, Randy Miller, Keith Payne and Jimmy K. Stuart led by Master Counselor Rich Miller. Gerald Kelly, state master counselor, presented "Dad" Buecker with a commemorative plaque from Illinois DeMolay.

Howard L. Klaus, district 16 deputy from Edwardsville, introduced E. Gene Ross, most worshipful senior grand warden of A.F.A.M. of the State of Illinois among others. Ross is also a member of the local chapter advisory board. Other advisors and master masons in attendance from the local chapter were: Ellis N. Hackney Jr., Ralph F. McKinney Sr., Charles A. Meyer, Charles A. Meyer, Charles Hunter, Vic Jansen and Dale O'Beir.

Mothers Club members from Southern Illinois were at the Scottish Rite for their own meeting. Mrs. Barbara McKinney and Mrs. Mary Stuart of the local mothers explained the DeMolay Sweetheart emblem to the gathering and the mothers were shown the robes used by the Illini Priory for the DeMolay degree.

Other mothers in attendance from the local mothers club were: Mrs. Lois Heblthwaite, Mrs. Jo Meyer, Mrs. Charlotte Mize, Mrs. Martha Simpson, and Mrs. Verna Stuart led by Mrs. Liz Gibbons, mother's club president. The local mothers also served on the committee which provided refreshments following the ceremonies.

Marshall students to jump rope for heart

Students at Marshall Elementary School will participate this year for the first time in Jump Rope for Heart, a national special event sponsored by the Illinois Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation (IAHPER) for benefit of the Heart Association.

The event will be held April 7 at Marshall Elementary School and will be coordinated by Judy Collins. Other Illinois schools and students from elementary to college level will be participating in more than 40 states March 26-April 2. March is National Physical Education and Sports Month, and the event has been endorsed by the Governor's Council on Health and Fitness.

Jump Rope for Heart will be conducted by school physical education teachers and students who organize rope-jumping competition. Members of six-student teams each jump rope, relieving each other when tiring, for a maximum of three hours.

Cash pledges collected from sponsors for each minute of their rope-jumping efforts contribute to Heart Association programs of research, to find better means of diagnosing and treating heart and blood vessel diseases; public and professional education, and community service projects, such as cardiopulmonary resuscitation training and blood pressure screening.

For the first time in the history of the three-year-old event, schools will be eligible for prizes, ranging from video tape cameras with recorders to gymnasium equipment. Students can win prizes which include T-shirts, jackets and warm-up suit.

Nichols wants state to bring Canadian geese here

Bill Nichols, who owns acreage in the southwest side of Horseshoe Lake, believes as many as 500 waterfowl may have come to their deaths at the lake as a result of eating lead pellets from shotgun ammunition. He bases the count on finding three banded canvasbacks that died that way; he says about three out of 150 birds are banded. He sent the carcasses to National Laboratories in Madison, Wis., which confirmed that the deaths were from lead shot.

Nichols said a flock as large as 3,000 birds gathered on the Horseshoe Lake ice. As some of the birds died, the large, gull population descended and picked the bones clean in about two and a half hours. The specimens were obtained before the gulls did their work.

Nichols is trying to persuade state officials to send four trucks to Canada to accept an offer of the Canadian Wildlife Service to give all the Giant Canadian Geese that the state will pick up.

Nichols says the Giant Canadian Goose has a tendency to take up residence permanently. In Toronto, he says, there are so many of the big birds the Canadian Wildlife Service doesn't know what to do with them. Law forbids shooting in the city.

Nichols says one truck could bring back about 450 birds. He hopes four trucks can go, to provide a "free-flying flock that will stay at Horseshoe Lake."

BAC group's conflict exceeds healthy level of tension

Excerpts from an independent assessment of Belleville Area College needs, accepted by the BAC board here March 18, prepared by Presidential Search Consultation Services (Dr. Frederic W. Ness, director, and Dr. Ronald S. Stead, executive director).

Belleville is a relatively young college, particularly if its age is measured by its more recent history as a comprehensive community college. The college's mission and the expansion of its service area in the late '60s resulted in steady growth, with all of the attendant "growing pains."

A good match between the needs of BAC at this point, and the professional and personal qualities of the new president, is fundamental if BAC is to provide needed, quality educational opportunities for citizens of District 522 in the '80s.

The extreme conflict within and between the college's constituencies is a special and critical problem. Personal and group relationships are poisoned by the high level of acrimony and distrust. We hear frequent references to the "in" group and the "out" group.

There is a perception shared by many that a system of rewards and punishments has been adopted to gain the upper hand in a perceived power struggle with the faculty.

While a certain healthy tension between different groups within a college is inevitable, the hostility and conflict which exist are not conducive to the provision of a good education. Development of a high degree of cooperation, mutual respect and trust are required if BAC is to reach its potential.

All must recognize that they share a common cause—to serve students and District 522. The ability of BAC to respond to the educational needs of its service area will be closely related to the near-future success of achieving greater unity.

Improved financial management will be required to utilize effectively the limited resources available from the state, the district, and student tuition. The new president and the board must satisfy themselves and citizens that the college is well-managed and that taxpayers are getting their money's worth.

BAC has received considerable negative publicity as a result of resignations, a strike, etc., during the past year. This has raised questions about the stability of the college and the effectiveness of faculty, administrative and board leadership.

It will be necessary to repair the damage to the college's reputation in the community. More is required than simply "repair"; it must actively cultivate the good will of the community.

Even with sound fiscal management, the board will have to seek additional local tax revenues in the near future to maintain comprehensive, quality programs.

State showing it is possible to curb government costs

Controlling governmental growth and spending can be a mighty difficult task, as the drama currently being played out in Washington demonstrates.

It is also a gigantic struggle to keep the state budget in balance. But gains can be made, judging by the newly-issued report of the privately-financed Governor's Cost Control Task Force. With an expenditure of $420,000 in funds provided by 170 sponsoring groups and businesses, the Task Force believes it has produced suggestions that have led to a $410 million annual saving in governmental expenditures.

The overall goal is to "streamline the government of Illinois and enable it to do more with fewer taxpayer dollars."

The final report by the Task Force covers state administrative actions on cost control ideas through the 1979-80 fiscal year, the second full year following completion of the original study. The summary covers actions and decisions on about 80 percent of the more than 600 recommendations that were presented. The savings and revenues that could be quantified include:

- $141 million in estimated yearly savings through management improvements in the employer-financed Unemployment Insurance Trust Fund, nearly eliminating an eligibility documentation error rate that represented a potential annual loss of as much as $150 million in erroneous payments.
- $206 million in annual savings, in-

APPREHENDED FRIDAY Robert H. Scott, 35, of 1206 Kirkpatrick Homes was apprehended by police in the 500 block of Kirkpatrick at 2:15 a.m. Friday for allegedly taking eight rolled morning newspapers that had been placed in front of a confectionery at E. 25th Street and Nameoki Road. He was fined $50 at noon that day for petty theft and was taken on a warrant issued earlier by St. Louis authorities. Bond in the Missouri case was set at $3,000.

Mr. Donut Is robbed

An armed robber is being sought after obtaining $190 in a holdup at 2:40 a.m. today at the Mr. Donut store, 3134 Nameoki Road.

In his late 20s, the bandit is 5-9 in height and is heavy set. He has "blondish brown hair covering his ears," rough appearing hands, and a red mark and pimples on his face.

The man was wearing blue trousers, a red baseball hat and a checkered flannel shirt. He was driving a dark green older-model auto.

He initially visited the store and restaurant shortly after 2 a.m. today, purchasing doughnuts and discussing a car sale.

When he returned, he leaned against the counter and asked an employee for coffee. When she poured a cup of coffee, he displayed a blue steel pistol and ordered her to give him money from a cash drawer.

The green auto was not visible and he may have fled on foot through yards on Myrtle Avenue.

News notes

Seventy-four youths aged 16 died in Illinois traffic in 1979. The Ill. House Motor Vehicles Committee last week approved raising the minimum driver age from 16 to 17.

Illinois Attorney General Tyrone Fahner told an area bar association meeting Thursday night at Sunset Hills Country Club that judges are to blame for a slowdown in the state criminal justice system. He commented, "The problem comes when judges are more concerned whether they'll be reversed on appeal, than whether they'll be conducting a fair, judicious trial."

State Rep. Sam Wolf announced Thursday the House Revenue Committee has voted 17-4 to give the Heilmann Brewery, Belleville, a $250,000 a year tax credit. He said, "Illinois once had 61 breweries. We have only two left, and need to do everything we can to keep them in the state. Every other state in the Midwest provides the kind of tax credit we propose."

The new $1 million multipurpose physical education facility at SIUE will have a solar water heater if the U.S. approves a $50,000 grant request being filed this week.

SIUE is cracking down on incomplete grades, asserting that too many students are neglecting to finish their course work. The time limit is being reduced from four years to one year.

Gerald B. Cohn, 41, a Bethalto attorney, has been appointed as U.S. magistrate for the Southern District of Illinois at a salary of $46,500 a year. U.S. Judge James L. Foreman said Thursday at East St. Louis, Cohn will begin his duties May 1 in the 38-county federal court district, presiding at civil and misdemeanor trials and at pre-trial and arraignment proceedings.

Illinois Power Co. has a 90-day stockpile of coal. United Mine Workers plan a nationwide coal strike this weekend.

The Interstate Commerce Commission will hold a public hearing on the impact on employees of proposed sale of the Illinois Terminal Railroad.

A MATTER OF BALANCE...

Weber will refuse to accept weekends in jail for Hileman

Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber said Friday that he will refuse to accept a guilty plea from former Granite City assistant fire chief Charles Hileman which would call for nights and weekends in jail.

Weber said that when Hileman is to be sentenced April 10, the prosecution has no intention of honoring the plea-bargained sentence of two years of probation and 18 months of nights and weekends in the Madison County Jail, calling the recommendation "A fraudulent agreement."

Weber says the deadline for Hileman to plead guilty was 5 p.m. March 11 and Hileman did not make his plea until March 13, so the state's attorney's office is not bound to follow the recommendation.

Hileman is accused of felony counts of theft and burglary and a misdemeanor count of contributing to the delinquency of a minor in connection with Feb. 23 activities in which Hileman allegedly recruited a 16-year-old Granite City High School North student to seal a microwave oven and central air conditioning units from the building trades home students are constructing at 2138 Hamilton Drive.

Weber, aware that Hileman was on probation in connection with a plea of guilty to three felony counts of theft Dec. 2, 1977, said he will seek a prison sentence for Hileman when Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick holds the sentencing hearing April 10.

Hileman's original three years of probation were to have expired Dec. 29, 1980, but in November, 1980, it was extended for six months, according to a spokesman for Weber's office. Therefore, Hileman was on probation when last month's alleged incidents occurred, he said.

Celebrities On The Couch

Herve Villechaize

By DICK MAURICE

He may not be tall, but he is dark, handsome, and speaks with a French accent that exudes suave sophistication, culture and unending humor!

At 3 feet, 11 inches, Herve Villechaize cannot be described as tall but he's shown that the old Hollywood tune, "There are no small parts, only small actors," just might have a twist in it. As an actor, he's rapidly gaining the reputation of being as "big" as they come!

Co-starring with Ricardo Montalban on TV's "Fantasy Island," Herve is the first and only "little person" to receive star billing as a regular on a television series.

MAURICE: We don't mean to be tacky, but do you get used to it, both my parents are normal size. I was about 6 or 7 when I first realized I was small. My brothers are big. Well, French people are not that big! It just dawned on me that people watch me in the street all the time, and it doesn't bother me.

MAURICE: Did it create any problems when you were in school?

VILLECHAIZE: I quit school when I was 11 because I didn't want to study. I didn't want to do anything, except paint. I was about 6 when I started to paint.

MAURICE: What is your family background?

VILLECHAIZE: My father was a doctor but he was not the kind of guy to say, "Don't do that." He made sure that I had some basics. That is one thing that I am proud of.

My father was OK. He got me the best teacher and sent me to Paris to study. He disciplined me — the French family is much more disciplined than the family here — and he kept me in line.

But I was always free to do what I wanted. I was enrolled in art school when I was 16!

MAURICE: Were you successful as an artist?

VILLECHAIZE: Oh yes. I was very successful before I came to America. I have a painting that the Museum of Paris bought when I was 18. Most people are about 50 when that happens. So far, I am the youngest artist with a painting on exhibit in that museum.

MAURICE: How did your family react when you decided to become an actor?

VILLECHAIZE: When my father was alive, my mother said, "You wanted to be a painter and not an actor!" They put me through so many good schools and the best teachers that they thought it was a shame that I was going into acting. They never took my acting seriously.

MAURICE: Do you think your mother appreciates actors?

VILLECHAIZE: My mother wanted to be an actress, but in her time it was not permitted. She came from a very wealthy, a very "high" kind of family, so there was no way that she could have been an actress. That is why she permitted my brother to be an actor.

MAURICE: Your brother?

VILLECHAIZE: Yes. I have a brother who is a banker, another who is a politician, and I have one who is a director of movies, who used to be an actor. I remember one time when I had just gotten a part in a play, and I wrote my mother saying, "I think I want to be an actor."

I got a letter back saying, "We put you through art school ... you don't know how much we went through! You are not an actor ... you are an artist! Stick to your painting and don't take the bread out of your brother's mouth!"

Now, there is no way that I can do what he does but he was a sort of a prima donna. He thought he was so good that he could just sit home and have people knocking on the door. Now, he is a director because he didn't have the drive to be an actor — he is too proud.

He says, "Well, I am not going to compromise!" But, in life, you have to compromise all the time, if you compromise with a sense of what you want, then that's all right.

MAURICE: Did you come to America to become an actor?

VILLECHAIZE: I wanted to study art in New York, so my parents sent me.

MAURICE: That's funny. It seems like Americans are always rushing over to your home country, France, to study painting.

VILLECHAIZE: And all the French people rush to here! Actually, the art business is here.

MAURICE: How did that lead you to acting?

VILLECHAIZE: When I came here, to New York, I didn't speak English. I had no place to go so I learned English by staying home and watching TV. The acting intrigued me.

Then I heard that they wanted someone "small" to play a part in an off-Broadway play called "The Moon Dreamers." So I went and got the part. That's where I started my career.

After that, I did a part for the New York City Opera as a mime.

MAURICE: When you aren't acting, or working on projects, what do you do to relax?

VILLECHAIZE: I like my gardening and, now and then, I go fishing. I like to walk in the mountains. And I like skiing, but I don't have much of an opportunity to go.

Don't let 'em knock your block off!

Call your local police, and learn how to help protect your neighborhood.

 Ahhh, parades. Crooks! Pickpockets! Purse snatchers! They love it! Because in all the confusion, nobody pays any attention to their wallets or purses, watches or jewelry. And crooks make out like bandits. So keep an eye on your dog biscuits (and other valuables) in any crowd and help...

Let's Talk

The need for self-esteem

By REV. LEE TRUMAN

A young attractive woman, Cindy Bellington, asked for help. She said she was actually hurting because of the daily social slights she had to suffer.

In the first counseling period, I asked her: "Cindy, do you like yourself?" She hung her head and answered that she did not.

This was an unfair question, because I already knew the answer, but it had to be the place for us to begin working on her problem which was her low level of self-esteem. Cindy's friends saw her as being so thin-skinned and sensitive that they had to be continually on their guard lest she be offended at some innocent word or act.

It is the person who feels underserving, who doubts his own honest capabilities, and has a poor opinion of himself, who becomes hurt at the drop of a slight. It is the person who secretly doubts his own worth and feels insecure within himself, who sees social threats where there are none.

These people exaggerate and overestimate the social pinpricks that are within all social framework. This is because they are what they are and has little to do with their social setting.

We all need a certain amount of emotional toughness, as well as ego-sensitivity to provide a balance in our living. We need the toughness to protect us from real threats to our self-worth. This is our first line of defense.

It wouldn't be sensible for our body to be covered with crusty scales, or a hard shell like a turtle, and it's not healthy for our emotions either. We would be denied the awareness and pleasure of sensitive living.

Many people have no skin on their ego. They have only the thin sensitive inner layer exposed, and they need to literally become emotionally thicker skinned so that they can be able to ignore the petty cuts and the minor ego-slights which take place in all of our lives.

Such persons need to build up their self-esteem, and get a better, more adequate image of themselves so that they will not feel threatened by a little danger, only a little person does. In the same way a healthy ego with plenty of self-esteem does not feel threatened by a casual or an innocent remark.

You do not cure a weak ego by undermining it or making it feel even weaker through self-denial or constant recounting of sins or wrongdoing.

Self-esteem is as necessary to the spirit as food is to the body. The cure for self-centeredness, self-concern, egotism and all the ills that go with it is the development of a healthy, strong ego by building up an honest self-worth.

When a person has adequate self-esteem, little slights offer no threats at all. They are simply passed over and ignored. Even deeper emotional wounds are likely to heal faster and cleaner with no festering sores to poison life or to spoil happiness.

TV Mailbag

Kidnapper' kept in can 6 months

By THOM MEAD

HOLLYWOOD — The TV Mailbag:

Q. I recently watched James Stacy in the television movie, "My Kidnapper, My Love," and I understand that this was not the original title. Is this true? — M.C., Leavittsburg, Ohio.

A. The film, which Stacy made in June 1979, was called "Dark Side of Love." It was slated for airing by NBC during the fall of 1979, but the network kept it in the can until last December, when it was shown under the title of "My Kidnapper, My Love."

Q. What happened to Raina Hovis of the "Lawrence Welk Show"? — W.D., Vero Beach, Fla.

A. She decided to spend more time with her 3-year-old daughter, Julie.

Q. Could you tell me something about Amy Wright? — B.B., Lawton, Okla.

A. Amy Wright, who received outstanding notices for her performance in John Huston's "Wise Blood," is a native of Chicago. She attended Beloit College in Wisconsin, and began a teaching career before turning to her first love — the theater. She followed the trail of off-Broadway stage productions and moved upward for her first important role as Ophelia with Rip Torn in a Circle in the Square production of "Hamlet."

Her film work began first with a documentary, "Not A Pretty Picture," then in small roles in such films as "Girlfriends," "The Deer Hunter," "The Amityville Horror" and "Breaking Away." Amy's role as Sabbath Lily in Huston's "Wise Blood" was lauded by many top critics both in the United States and abroad. She again captured the eyes of the critics in her latest film, "Inside Moves."

A confirmed New Yorker, Amy continues her acting studies with drama coach Uta Hagen. In addition, she's currently rearing with Christopher Reeve in the Broadway production of Lanford Wilson's "Fifth of July."
